RECRUITING ARMY QUICKLY

War Department Admits That Orders of This Nature Have Been Sent Out and That Four Thousand Men Are Needed by Regiments in the Field.
[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.]

Washington, March 24.—American consular officers in Mexico were today ordered by the state department to investigate the report that four Americans captured by Mexican federales at points in the insurrection territory have been shot. The department does not credit the report.
Admits Orders.

Reports of extraordinary activity on the part of the army recruiting officers throughout the country today forced an admission from the war department that orders had been issued to enlist enough men to bring up the total of the regular army to its entire authorized ranks. It was declared, however, that the move was not taken in prospect of trouble. It was said four thousand additional men are required.

Terrible Battle.

El Paso, Texas, March 24.—Passenger arriving today from Nogales confirmed the report of a fierce battle in which the rebels were defeated at La Colorado in the state of Sonora on Wednesday, in which the loss was thirty-six killed.

At Juarez.

El Paso, Texas, March 24.—The activity of the Mexican troops at Juarez continued today, the losses having doubled last night in expectation of possible attack by insurgents.

C. H. Convers of Glendale, Cal., has filed additional evidence that his son, Lawrence, and Edwin Blatz of Pittsburgh, now in jail here, were captured on American soil. This evidence has been forwarded to the state department.

Believe Him Dead.

New York, March 24.—Relatives of John Hamilton Blawdy, the American who with three companions was yesterday reported shot by Mexican federales in Chihuahua, conferred here today and expressed their belief that the report was true.

prisoner in a besieged city by the insurrectionists. He writes to the Gazette of his travels and experiences as follows:

"I returned to the states this morning from a eleven hundred mile trip through the western coast country of Mexico. I have had some exciting experiences, have seen and been in towns at the time of battle, have been in small towns which were in the hands of the insurrectionists, had a number of pictures taken with the rebels, have also been out of from the outside world on account of burned bridges, and for nearly three days I was held in a town and could not send out any mail nor could I send a telegram. I was in the city of Navajon, Sonora, at the time of the big battle and was mistaken for an insurrectionist, the soldiers on top of the government building were shooting at me, I held up and waved a white handkerchief, but I guess they did not see it. I then went down on my knees and crawled away from those deadly bullets. I found a safe place between two stone walls and remained there until after the battle.

A number of different insurrection leaders who I met, said that they would lay down their arms if Diaz would resign and step out, when told the government men this they said Diaz would not quit and that the government could win without losing Diaz. I have talked with thousands of men in every walk of life, added all of them who they wanted to see win and at least 90 per cent said that they were for Madero. The American mining men have been hit hard by the Revolution, most of the mines had to be closed and many men lost their positions.

The insurrections are made up from the poorest to the richest men in Mexico. At a very low figure there seem to be at least 7,000 armed insurrections in the state of Sonora, Shalton and Tepic, and a total of about 18,000 in other states.

[Ex-Gov. Folk Of Missouri, Says Ex-President Or Wisconsin Senator Will Be Republicans' Presidential Choice.]

Spokane, Wash., March 24.—Either Roosevelt or La Follette will be our next republican candidate for President, according to the belief of Joseph W. Folk, ex-governor of Missouri.

"Roosevelt is not us down and out as many persons think," said Folk. He wields a tremendous influence yet and I believe that either he or La Follette will be the next republican nominee. The progressives will certainly control the next republican national convention. If the machine disregards them it will sure hear from the people latter.

UNITED STATES HAS OFTEN INTERVENED

[Uncle Sam Has Interfered In Affairs Of Other Nations Eleven Times To Protect American Interests.]

[BY UNITED PRESS.]

Washington, D. C., March 24.—Mexico will be the latest in a lengthy intervention list. If the army crosses the Rio Grande, the United States has been an accomplished intervenor partial or diplomatic since almost the beginning of the republic.

The most laudable and bloody intervention was in behalf of Cuba and against Spain, causing the war in 1898.

United States troops took part in war service in 1898 when the powers intervened in China to put down the Boxer uprising and save the diplomats from Peking from slaughter.

Eleven interventions from 1856 to 1902 marked the relations of the United States with Colombia, while the behavior of Panama was a part of that republic. Sailors and marines were landed by request of Colombia to preserve neutrality on the secession of Panama from Colombia and the selection of the first president of the infant republic were largely due to a quiet source of diplomatic intervention.

The very first intervention was in 1801. The Pacific of Tripoli hearing that the United States may had been reduced to six ships began seizing American merchant vessels in the Mediterranean. In 1855 a detail of sailors from the Waterer, an American warship, quelled an insurrection of Chinese coolies in the middle China Islands.

In the same year United States naval forces landed at La Union, San Salvador to protect American interests during a revolution.

An American merchant vessel, the general Sherman ventured up a river in Korea in 1867. The ship grounded, the crew was massacred and the cargo stolen. In 1871 a fleet went over to get satisfaction but all they got was several days of sharp fighting in which they destroyed several forts and killed a lot of Koreans.

In 1888 one of the fleeing presidents of Hayti captured several American vessels with his navy of two armed iron boats.

Great Britain proposed, in 1855, to seize disputed territory between Venezuela and British Guiana. Posa, Cleve, and wrote a letter to Great Britain that so aroused the war spirit in this country in support of the Monroe Doctrine that the English agreed, after a trial having refused, to submit the matter to arbitration.

United States influence was a factor in the overthrow of Liliuokalani, Queen of Hawaii, and the annexation of those islands, in 1898, to this country.

The meeting presented some strange features. The German-American Alliance of this city sought to "pack" the meeting and keep out the students, but the latter, well organized and apprised of the efforts of the "wet" leaders, arrived early and pre-empted all the available seats.

The activity of the innumerable employees of the "brewery lobby" was especially noticeable, extending even to the point of playing the hired "clagger" while the speeches were being made.

There is said to be a possibility of the passage of the Johnson bill, although other restrictive legislation and the county option bill are not expected to go through the lower house. The Johnson bill would wipe out eighty-five saloons and three breweries in this city.

Incidentally the United States has been credited with "Intervening" President Castro out of Venezuela; Pres. Zelaya out of Nicaragua; and adjusting a squabble between the Dominican Republic and in settling the recent disturbance in Honduras.

COMPENSATION ACT IS LIKELY TO PASS

[Report From Madison Shows That In Present Form It Is Liable To Pass Both Houses.]

[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.]

Madison, Wis., March 24.—Prospects of the passage of a workmen's compensation act have improved materially in the last few days. The bill has been reported into the senate with amendments calculated to remove the opposition of small manufacturers and farmers, and the joint finance committee will begin at once the work of going over its provisions.

Assurances of the constitutionality of the measure have been received from high authority, and the way is now clear for quick action by each house. As amended, the bill restores to employers the defense of assumption of risk and negligence as they elect to come under the terms of the act. This protects the employer in the case of employees who refuse to subscribe to its provisions, and removes the principal objection to the plan. As amended, the act also will not affect the farmer or small manufacturer with only a few employees.

The compensation plan calls for the payment of 65 per cent of an employee's wages for the time he is disabled and in case of death, indemnity of $1,500 to $3,000, depending upon the wages heretofore received, payable in monthly installments.

The bill now has the support of the organized manufacturers of the state and also of the American Society of Equity, representing the organized farmers.

ISSUED A WRIT OF NE EXEAT IN SUIT ASKING A DIVORCE

Judge Grimm Makes Remarkable Ruling in the Longbotham Divorce Proceedings.

Judge Grimm today decided that a writ of ne exeat may properly be issued in a divorce action.

It seems that Mabel Longbotham, nee Hall, daughter of Col. George W. Hall, the showman, of Evansville, this county, instituted an action for divorce against her husband, J. Frank Longbotham, in December, 1910. He answered her complaint in due course. Later she made affidavit that he had disposed of or was about to dispose of his property, which was all personal, and intended to leave the state, which would make any judgment for attorney which she might obtain against him ineffectual.

Upon this affidavit, and the complaint in the action, E. P. Carpenter, circuit court commissioner, made an order for a writ of ne exeat, providing that he give a bond for $2500, with two sureties, that he would remain within the state and abide by any judgment of the circuit court that might be rendered in the action.

A writ was issued pursuant to this order, and Mr. Longbotham was taken into custody by Undersheriff Comstock. His attorney thereupon obtained an order to show cause why the writ should not be vacated, claiming that it was improvidently issued in the notion, the argument of which was fixed for the 20th instant. By agreement between the attorneys, Mr. Longbotham was allowed to give a bond for $2500 with one surety, until the motion should be disposed of.

On the 20th instant the motion was argued by Chas. E. Pierce for Mr. Longbotham, and Thos. S. Nolan for Mrs. Longbotham. Mr. Pierce made a very able argument. He claimed that such a writ could not issue in a divorce action, for the reason that the amount of alimony or the portion of the husband's estate to which the wife might be entitled could not be determined or fixed upon at the time the writ was granted, the law requiring certainty in this respect. In answer to this Mr. Nolan argued that the amount of the defendant's property was stated in the complaint and affidavit of his client to be $10,000; that under the decisions of the supreme court of Wisconsin, the wife was entitled to one-third of her husband's property as alimony, unless there were some exceptional circumstances; and that this should make the demand of his client fairly certain.

He also cited several cases where the writ had been granted in divorce cases before judgment and its issuance been upheld by superior court. Among other famous divorce cases which he cited and read from was that of Catherine N. Forrest versus Edwin Forrest, the famous tragedian, and Agnes Robertson. Houleau, son of Dion Boucicault, the famous actor and author who collaborated with Charles Rondo in writing "Paul Play." The question was very fully argued, and the lawyers of the city awaited the decision with interest. Mr. Pierce stated today that his client would give the bond requested by the writ, and not appeal from Judge Grimm's decision.

UNION MEETING OF WOMEN YESTERDAY

Delegates From All Churches Gathered at Baptist Parlors in Interest of Foreign Missions.

The sessions of the union meeting of the representatives from the different churches in this city and from the surrounding towns for the purpose of discussing foreign missions and their work, were held yesterday in the parlor of the Baptist church. The meeting is part of a movement under the direction of the National Women's Foreign Missionary Board and is nation wide. In its scope, the local churches which were represented yesterday were the Episcopal, Baptist, Congregational, Presbyterian, Methodist and United Brethren. Delegations of women from Albany, Broome, Monroe, and Clinton were also here.

Miss Ella McLaughlin of Chicago, who was supposed to be the speaker of the day, was unable to come and went in her place, Mrs. Elizabeth Peterson, who gave a talk to the ladies in the morning and also addressed the session in the afternoon. After her talk in the morning luncheon was served at the Methodist church.

At two o'clock each church held separate rallies at which time the work of the year was talked over and planned. At three o'clock occurred the general address of Miss Peterson, at which time in a very forcible and pleading way she urged greater activity in the foreign field. She had at her command some very interesting statistics to show how small was the annual share of the money expended by women, which the foreign missionaries received.

She told of the condition of the women in the Orient and that if the average woman of this country only knew how badly her sister in the far away land needed her aid, that greater interest would undoubtedly be manifested. She dwelt at length on the life of the down-trodden women of India and the state of subjection in which they were found, telling of many of the inhuman customs that were responsible for keeping them there.

In closing she said that the only remedy for this condition there was the spread of the Christian religion and that the hope of elevating the ideals of our own people and those of the heathen lie in the second coming of Christ.

The meeting closed with the singing of several selections by the glee choir of the Congregational church, under the direction of Mrs. Zoe Pearl Park.

Poetic Apprentice.

A grocer's apprentice addicted to poetry has summoned his employer, a rich merchant of Oughton, Servia, for unlawful dismissal. The merchant explained that his customer left because the boy answered all questions in rhyme and detained people while he fixed meat and verso. Moreover, he knotted his employer with a new couplet every day. The court found the merchant justified and advised the apprentice to mend his ways.—Belgrade Cur. Pall Mall Gazette.

MAN IS INJURED AT THE ST. PAUL DEPOT

Stranger Giving Name As Charles Sherman Gets Mixed Up With Express Truck on Platform.

Giving his name as Charles Sherman and his place of residence as Walworth county, a stranger in the police station with a badly injured head, as the result of a collision with one of the express trucks at the St. Paul depot about 10:30 this morning. The man was brought to the station by Officer John Dalton and here it was found that he had been drinking and it is thought that he must have been in a condition which made it impossible for him to take care of himself.

The expressman who was hauling the truck which struck Sherman could not be found, nor could the man who was said to have been in the company of the injured man at the time of the accident. According to Dalton the man was intoxicated and was standing between the two trucks on which were the Mineral Point and Chicago trains. The first train knew of the accident was someone running up to him and telling him that a man had been knocked down and struck by one of the trucks at the west end of the platform. The officer hurried to where the man was and assisted him to the police station.

It is supposed that being drunk, the man was endeavoring to get out of the way of the truck when he slipped and fell, striking his head either on the brick pavement or on the wheel of the truck.

OBJECTIONS MADE TO PRESENT PLANS

Which Have Been Submitted for Proposed Racine Street Bridge Because Only One Sidewalk is Provided.

According to the two latest proposals for the construction of a bridge at Racine street, provision is made but for one sidewalk and that in each case to be seven feet wide. This seven foot walk would be on the north side and besides this there would be an eighteen foot roadway. These facts are learned from the proposals submitted, one for a concrete structure by the Illinois Bridge company, and another by the Central States Bridge company for a steel concern. City Engineer C. V. Kerch stated this morning that he had heard of some complaint on the part of a few people who lived right in the immediate vicinity of the bridge to the effect that the sidewalk on one side only would be a waste of money and that the thing should be done right in the first place and a sidewalk put on both sides of the new bridge.

It would be well to learn that the only two proposals that came within the appropriation of the council were the two above named and that there were no provisions for only one side, that on the north side and to be seven feet wide. It was for fear of exceeding the amount appropriated that led to the plan of only having one side provided with a section for pedestrians. The concrete bridge would allow for a change to two sidewalks with but little additional outlay of money. It is thought that the traffic at this street, considering all of the other bridges in the city, would not demand more than seven feet of walk on the one side.

The plans submitted for the concrete type give a most pleasing effect and would undoubtedly make a very beautiful bridge. Not only is the concrete more artistic, but in the long run it is quite a saving in expense as it does away with the repeated paintings which are necessary in the case of the steel structure.

GOLF DIRECTORS HAD A MEETING THURSDAY

Name Heads of the Different Committees for the Coming Summer—Plans for Professionally Discussed.

Directors of the Mississippi Golf club held a meeting Thursday afternoon to discuss matters of importance for the coming summer. It was decided to reappoint the same chairman of the sub-committees as last year, the matter of the chairman of the House Committee being left open for the present until a definite plan could be made relative to this important feature of the social life of the club. Francis Grant will be chairman of the Greens committee, George King of the Games, and H. H. Bliss of the membership. The proposition to secure the services of a professional for a short time at the opening of the season was taken up and Secretary Charles Gage authorized to write to a New York firm that had made an offer to furnish one, as to the possibility of securing one at once. The prospects for a successful season are most bright.

Skavlem Piano Club Being the Thing in Mind

The Skavlem Piano Club is a success. An overwhelming success. And thermometer playing the "high jinks" with the low figures.

It was an audacious thing to begin the selling of 200 pianos in mid-winter. It was a bold thing to do—to buy 200 pianos of a single grade—buy them outright and plan a March and April selling campaign (the Skavlem Piano Club) to dispose of them. Such a thing is only done by those who

HAVE CONFIDENCE IN THEMSELVES. BY THOSE WHO know their OWN POWER. By those who know their public through dealing with them from day to day for years and years—and know exactly how the people will respond to their public announcements. We knew we were right. We knew the time was RIGHT AND READY. We knew our piano was RIGHT and our proposition was right. It's FAIR, LIBERAL AND ADVANTAGEOUS TO THE BUYER.

The club member saves BIG MONEY—NINETY-SEVEN DOLLARS AND A HALF—nearly enough to educate one child in piano playing.

This is the Whole Proposition.
Read This.

It's no wonder the Skavlem piano club IS SUCH A SUCCESS. Had YOU better not investigate its advantages? DO IT NOW—THIS WEEK. Don't be put down among the procrastinators. Get in on a proposition that is a "GO"—THAT IS A BIG SUCCESS.

FOR THE CONVENIENCE OF PEOPLE WHO CANNOT COME DURING THE DAY, THE STORE WILL BE OPEN EVERY EVENING UNTIL 10 O'CLOCK.

The Skavlem Piano Club Plan Told In a Few Brief Sentences.

- 1—The value of the Skavlem Club Piano is $375.
- 2—The price to Skavlem Club Members is $277.50
- 3—The terms are $5.00 cash when you join, then $1.25 per week for 28 weeks.
- 4—The piano will be delivered when you join, or later, as you wish.
- 5—The weekly payments of $1.25 begin when the piano is delivered.
- 6—Every instrument is guaranteed without reserve—for ten years. There are no "ifs" or "ands" in the guarantee—just a straight-out guarantee as strong as we know how to make it in writing.
- 7—if, after 30 days' trial, the piano is not satisfactory, we will give you money back.
- 8—if the piano is satisfactory after 30 days' use, the club member has eleven more months in which to satisfy himself as to the character of the piano. If it does not then prove to be everything that he expects, he has the privilege of exchanging it without one penny's loss for any other instrument of equal or greater value that we sell.
- 9—if a club member dies during the life of his contract we will immediately send a receipt in full to his family for the instrument.
- 10—a beautiful stool to match the piano and a latest style seat are included without extra cost.
- 11—the piano will be tuned twice without charge.

Subscribed and sworn to before me this 1st day of March, 1911.

OLIVE M. HAYWARD,
(Seal) Notary Public.
My commission expires July 12, 1914.THE STREETS.

As the spring approaches it is time to consider permanent improvement of the streets of the city. The Wisconsin Telephone company obtained permission of the common council last fall to lay their conduits for their new building down Milwaukee and Main streets and worked while the frost was in the ground. As a result the location of their trenches is most plainly seen by the sunken condition of the brick pavement, a menace to the public. Recently a loaded wagon of ice sank through the ditch at the corner of Milwaukee and Main streets and had to be partially unloaded before it could be hauled out. Yesterday a force of the street commissioners' men were at work at the same corner filling in another cave-in. Another street that needs attention is Center Avenue. This was partially repaired last fall and it should be finished now. At present it resembles a mighty poor country road where even the road tax is not worked out. There are numerous other streets in the city that need particular attention and it should be the duty of the city fathers to see that they are attended to. Some day the council will see fit to pass an ordinance whereby the major portion come out of the general fund, the property-owner paying but a third of the cost of construction. This might work a hardship upon those who have already paid for their improvements but it would be a movement in the right direction and would result in the city's obtaining a good system of roads.

EXIT JAPAN.

It appears from the dispatches from official Washington that Japan really had its flag in the Mexican pie and its eyes upon a good naval base along the coast of the Pacific belonging to our sister republic. We are told that the assurances of the wily Japanese minister at Washington to President Taft preclude the possibility of any further demonstration on the part of Japan in that direction and they will withdraw immediately from any connexion with President Diaz' government. So this was the fire that caused all the smoke and brought together the standing army of the United States for army maneuvers? If anyone thinks that Japan really intends to give up any strategic position it may have attained in Mexico they are mistaken. Caught "with the goods on them," the Japs have withdrawn officially but will turn their attention to some other locality, perhaps Hawaii or the Philippines. Meanwhile the word has gone out that unless Diaz can settle this present revolution in Mexico in his step time, Uncle Sam is going to show him how to do it by sending a few troops across the border. There are millions of dollars of good, hard United States money invested in Mexico and it is not gaining one cent of interest with the present disturbances going on. This is the reason why soldiers will be sent down below the Rio Grande to repeat, if necessary, what Scott and Taylor did when Santa Anna was alive and defied the government of the United States. Uncle Sam gained California at that time, Arizona and perhaps this time Lower California may be added to the territorial strip along the Pacific. Mexico has no real use for it, anyway, and might be willing to sell it for a moderate sum if it was insisted upon.

MAPS, PAST AND PRESENT.

As civilization advances into the more remote regions of the world, the geographer follows in the track of the explorer, and in many instances the latter has the double task of opening up particular locality and gathering such information as will be of service to the map-makers. Mountains, rivers, uplands or lowlands, coast formation, length and breadth, all topographical factors have to be taken into consideration under conditions that perhaps offer some excuse if, here and there, some measurement is put down which later prove not quite correct.

That the map of northern Africa, a region populous enough and not at all unrepresented by Europeans, needs to be corrected, is something of curious concern. The change will have reference mainly to the Muluya river, next to the Nile the largest river that flows into the Mediterranean. What puzzles the geographers, however, is how for more than sixty years the atlas of the world could have been showing "the meanders" of the Muluya. Other rivers, the Nile, the Niger, the Congo and the Zambezi, some time ago became known for what they are. As for the Muluya, not more than fifty miles from the Mediterranean and directly south of Melilla in eastern Morocco, this river has been down on the map with three separate loops about thirty miles long. It remained for the Moroccan invasion by the French to make plain that the celebrated "meanders" have no foundation in fact. Where the curves were supposed to be a gorge two feet high in the Beni Snassen mountains affords a straight course for the river.

Thus it is details which concern the map-makers of the present. The time has gone by when mere territorial outlines could satisfy.

THE TRAINING SCHOOL.

Janesville has made a formal bid for the location of the county training school for teachers and it is now up to the county board to decide where it is to be located. Janesville has five members of the board and they should unite and support the proposition to locate the school here. Janesville needs the school, not only that but Janesville has made the best offer and is the logical location for such an institution.

THE STREETS.

As the spring approaches it is time to consider permanent improvement of the streets of the city. The Wisconsin Telephone company obtained permission of the common council last fall to lay their conduits for their new building down Milwaukee and Main streets and worked while the frost was in the ground. Tacoma has passed an anti-treating ordinance with a referendum. As the women were not in on the treat usually they are for it strong.

Although many authorities object to Taft's peace plan, still it is safe to say his golf form will not be affected in any way.

Probably the real reason why the Illinois militia was not needed in the mining camps of that state was because they were there already.

Doubtless kind parents in Italy take their children around to see the caged Cammarots in lieu of going to the circus.

Now is the time for the spring flowers to peep forth. Keep your eye out for the dainty little wind-flowers that should soon be due.

Evidently the robins knew what they were about when they came back north early.

BY WALT MAEON.

It's always pleasant to hear a girl when she comes home from a social whirl. She tells a tale of WOMAN'S, the gowns she saw, of the hats of silk and the hats of straw; and Mrs. Jinks was a dream in white, and Mrs. Wax was a perfect fright. Would people listen if I should tell of the rugs worn at a party swell? Old Col. Wiggs, as you know was there, and he made a batch when he dyed his hair. And old Bill Boggs was another guest; he had spilled some egg on his canvas vest, and his trousers lagged a frightful way and he wore a hat that was much too gay. And Ezra Spink was among the crowd, with a cheap cravat that was far too loud, and his pantaloons were a total loss, and his whiskers looked like some Irish moss. Old Aaron Dingbat, the giddy blurt, was there wrapped up in a cheap blue shirt, with a plate glass gem on his manly breast, and three buttons missing from off his vest. The host, who stood in cheap cowhide boots, regarded his guests with some amazement, and searched our coats and our trouserings, through a hand-brown fear that we had swiped his spoons.

That Bachelor Tax.
Chicago News: It would be tough on the old bachelor who is nursing in romance and carrying around in his pocket the picture of the girl who turned him down, were he obliged to pay $10 a year for the privilege. But he has doubtless saved much more than that in millinery that he did not buy.

NO ONE HAS TAKEN CHARGE OF REMAINS

Remains of Russell O. Mead Are at County Hospital Still—Will Be Kept Until Tomorrow.

No word has been received from the relatives of the late Russell O. Mead, who died yesterday morning at the county hospital, to the effect that they will care for the remains. The body still lies at the hospital unprovided for and according to a statement of the matron, Mrs. Barbara, today, will probably be buried tomorrow unless the family is heard from or other arrangements are made. The county would furnish a casket for the body and the expense would not be excessive for the family to secure proper burial.

It is stated by the Rockford papers that they have been unable to find anyone by that name residing in that city.

Couldn't Stand for That.

"How in the world did you get Miss Tart to consent to marry you?"

Prison Recreations.

In German prisons chess clubs are by no means uncommon. They are encouraged by the authorities as providing healthful mental relaxation for well-conducted prisoners. Recently the inmates of Brixton prison have been regaled with oratorios, while at Aylesbury there are lectures and services of song.

Woman and the Farm.

In defining woman's relation to the life of the farm, one needs but little reflection to become aware of the all-pervading quality of that relationship just as the monarch of France, when asked to define the state, exclaimed "The state; I am the state." So might the farmer's wife, when questioned as to the life of the farm, respond, "I am the life of the farm."

DELANEY'S TRIAL WAS HELD TODAY

FIFIELD REFUSED TO DISMISS THE COMPLAINT CHARGING BURGLARY.

MUCH EVIDENCE HEARD

Defense Tried To Prove That Prisoner Was Not Man Who Entered Carlo's Grocery.

In the case of the State of Wisconsin against Henry Delaney for an alleged burglary, the examination and cross-examination of witnesses by the District Attorney, Stanley G. Donnelly, and Attorney W. E. Dougherty, for the defense, was continued throughout the morning session of the municipal court. Court was called at nine o'clock, instead of the regular hour at ten o'clock, in order to finish the case today if possible.

The state resumed its case, introducing as witnesses John Connors, George Hesseauer and A. F. Krueger, employees at the Carlo store. Connors testified to putting the fifty cent piece and bag which it is alleged was found on Delaney when he was searched, in the cash drawer at the store, and Hesseauer and Krueger testified as to the locking and barring of the rear entrance to the place.

Officer Thomas Morrocco for the state rehearsed the details of his connection with the affair; of going to the Siegel saloon, following with Officer Sam Brown, the tracks leading from the Siegel saloon and later arresting Delaney. He also told of the incidents in the police station when Delaney was brought in; how Walsh denied it was the right man who was captured; of locking Delaney in the corridor and later releasing Officer Sam Brown when the latter searched Delaney. Emphasis was placed by the attorney for the defense on the testimony of the officer that Walsh said the man in the saloon at the time he (Walsh) was arrested, was a taller man.

The arrest of Walsh, the subsequent inspection of the interior of the Siegel saloon and following the supposed tracks of Delaney to the Delaney home, and later from the Delaney home by an indirect route to the Northwestern freight depot, a possible break in the trail occurring when the officers lost the trail for one block, but later found it was brought out.

The attorney for the defense laid particular stress on the testimony of the officers in cross-examination, concerning the reliability of tracing Delaney by the tracks in the snow, the search of the defendant in the city lock-up and the certainty of the officers as to whether it wasn't possible they had not arrested the right Delaney.

The state rested its case at 10:45 and a short recess was taken.

Asked Dismissed.

Attorney W. E. Dougherty, when court was again assembled, made a motion that the case against Delaney be dismissed on the grounds that the evidence was not sufficient to prove the defendant had broken into the store.

The judge, however, ruled that the case should be continued and the defendant's attorney took up his side of the case.

Four members of Delaney's family were called at witnesses in his behalf. His parents, Mr. and Mrs. Patrick Delaney told of advising their son, the defendant, to go to another city and leave his evil associates. They stated he had promised to do this and intended to do it on the Saturday in question, February 25, and gave testimony to show that after the return home of the other children, none had come to the house. The various hours at which the different members of the family had returned from town were stated. A sister, Miss Nellie Delaney and the youngest brother, Edward, were also on the witness stand, their testimony corroborating that of the others of the family.

Delaney, the defendant, was first placed on the stand this morning and when a recess was taken for the noon hour, his attorney had not completed the examination. In the examination Delaney stated the various events of the night on which he is alleged to have committed the burglary at the Carlo store, telling of meeting friends and visiting several saloons, attending a live rent theatre, accompanying a young lady friend as far as the Five Points and finally of going to sleep in a box car while waiting for a train out of the city.

He said that at the time he was seen by Officer Morrocco, previous to being arrested he was going to catch the "didded" baggage car on the Chicago passenger train leaving here at 1:15. He denied ever having had the package containing the money on his person and a note from a young lady friend, which he found in his coat pocket when the coins were returned to him on the morning he was arraigned, was introduced as evidence in being the only paper, besides cigarette papers and post cards, which he carried. He also made a denial of going to his home and from there to the freight depot, or of any connection whatever, with the Carlo robbery.

Only two witnesses testified for the state yesterday afternoon, they being Officer John Brown, who told of going to the Carlo store after the robbery and Mayor W. F. Carle, who told of having seen the paper bag containing the fifty cent piece in the cash drawer at his store. Brown told of the state of affairs within the store when he entered and identified a pinch bar found in the store.

The direct examination of the prisoner was continued after dinner, followed by a severe cross questioning. The summing up of the case was then made by the attorney for the prosecution and for the defense and at three thirty the case went to the jury.

Filled Findings in Case: Judge Grimm today filed findings in the case of W. A. Shelley vs. V. P. Mooney and L. W. Terry, an action to dissolve partnership and to recover some part of the money invested by the plaintiff in a partnership at Broadhead, formed for the purpose of dealing in tobacco. The finding states that the plaintiff is entitled to judgment dissolving the partnership relations and also is entitled to the sum of $2,000.00 with costs.

PERMISSION GIVEN TO CLOSE SUNDAYS

Postmaster Received Letter Yesterday Giving Him Right to Close Postoffice on Sunday.

In answer to the petitions of the citizens of this city, permission was granted to Postmaster Valentine yesterday in a letter from Washington to close the postoffice on Sundays. The postmaster stated this morning, however, that the ruling would not go into effect this coming Sunday, but more likely on the Sunday following. This is in order to give the people of the city due notice of the change and thus save any inconvenience as a result of the new order of things.

The letter also states that a petition must be made by the local authorities for the care of the travel business. That is, the traveling public must be looked out for and for this reason the office will be required to open for a certain length of time every Sunday. This pertains only to the general delivery window, however, and to insure accommodations for the people who only stop for a day or so in our city.

As yet, Mr. Valentine has received no notice in the official bulletin of the permission granted and it is only in the shape of a letter in answer to the one enclosing the petitions. Many others in the country have received similar notices lately, upon the sending in of the petitions. The order is not general and is confined to those who asked for the privilege.

CUSTOMS LAW IS BROADENED

American Tourists May Bring $100 Worth of Personal Belongings Home Without Charge.

Washington, March 21.—Secretary MacVeagh has approved a new customs ruling which the treasury department expects will do much to reduce the troubles of returning tourists from Europe and inhibit attempts to smuggle personal belongings into the port of New York. Under the law each American returning from abroad is entitled to bring in free $100 worth of personal belongings. The customs ruling hitherto have been susceptible of elastic interpretation and many troublesome incidents have arisen.

Of so-called expatriated Americans, proof will be required that they have abandoned their homes in the United States and taken bona fide residences abroad.

WOMAN'S PAGE

To Our Women Readers.

IT IS VERY evident that the women readers of the Gazette are interested in seeing this paper made the best possible medium for information that can be. Last Saturday the Gazette first published in this space a request to the women readers to express their views on the subject and so much interest has been displayed that it has been decided to increase the prizes to four, making the first prize a Caloric Fireless Cookstove.

The letters received thus far have been full of excellent suggestions as to the making of this page, and even other pages in the paper, more pleasing to the readers. There has been some confusion, however, owing to the list of subjects which were printed. The writers of the articles do not need to confine themselves to the subjects suggested, but can write on any phase of the paper's make-up that they may desire. The list is given merely to suggest a topic for you to write on.

Remember that each article must be plainly written on one side of the paper only and confined to about one hundred words. They must be in the Gazette office by April 1, and should be addressed to the "Feature Editor." It mailed, a two-cent stamp should be placed on the envelope to insure prompt delivery.

The Gazette is anxious to obtain your views on the subject of making its columns more interesting to you and all other women readers, so do not hesitate to express your individual opinions. The Gazette wants you to take a special interest in the paper you read daily by helping to make it more interesting.

Remember the prizes offered for the best four articles on this subject.

FIRST PRIZE—CALORIC FIRELESS COOKSTOVE.
SECOND PRIZE—$5.00 IN MONEY.
THIRD PRIZE—$3.00 IN MONEY.
FOURTH PRIZE—$2.00 IN MONEY.

Have your answers in the Gazette office as early as possible and not later than April 1.

The Evening Chit-Chat

By RUTH CAMERON.

In BOSTON the other day the first steps were taken toward the formation of a Servant Girls' Union.

This union plans to demand for its members an eight-hour day, not less than nine dollars a week, and exemption from any but certain duties definitely agreed upon as servant girls' duties. If this union is successful in Boston, it plans to extend itself rapidly over the whole country.

I can plainly imagine how the average housewife, who is already paying nearly double what she did fifteen years ago for domestic service, shudders at this news, so I have a suggestion ready for her.

Send them to it.

Get a housewife's union first. What will its purpose be? To keep down wages and lengthen hours, you think?

No, I didn't mean exactly that.

Tell you what I mean. Over in Germany there has recently been formed a "League of Politeness." Its members pledge themselves to politeness to all, rich or poor, insignificant or great, with whom they come in contact. And by politeness the women meant not just politeness, but that finer, deeper politeness which has been beautifully defined as meaning, "To do or say the kindest thing in the kindest way."

Well now, why can't the housewives' union be a sort of league of justice and kindness—a do-as-you-would-be-done-to league?

If members would promise to treat their maids so justly and kindly that they should have no excuse for longing to any healthful Union.

To definite requirements in regard to work, to regularity in regard to pay, to liberality in regard to time off, to justice in regard to complaints, in humanity and readiness to put themselves in her place, in regard to all relations with their maids the mistresses who belonged to this union would be required to pledge themselves.

Perhaps it might be well if they were also obliged to sign a written pledge something like this: "I will promise to always keep in mind that my maid is not a housework machine, but a woman like myself, with the same longings for happiness that I have, and to do all in my power to give her a fair chance for that happiness."

Not to be accepted as a member of this union would, of course, be a public disgrace.

Does it all sound so very absurd to you?

I hope not, for if you are the kind of woman I think you are, I am sure you are already a silent member of this informed league, and only waiting for its formation to give it your public support.

INVITING TROUBLE.

"Impatient people constantly water their miseries and ho up their comforts; sorrows are visitors that come without invitation, but complaining minds send a wagon to bring their troubles home in by the load," said Charles H. Spurkman, the great English preacher. "Many people are born crying, live complaining and die disappointed; they chew their bitter pill which they never would not know to be bitter if only they had the sense to swallow it whole in a cup of patience and water."

Life is a misery for many people because they make it so. All of their time is spent in whining and complaining. They exhaust their energy railing at fate and destroy their moral perspective by straining their mental eyes to see or find bridges they are never called upon to cross.

Of all the evils that curse the human race whining and complaining are the worst. Fato may deal some quite hard knocks but whining will not remedy the injuries inflicted. There is only one panacea for such things—that is work, attention to duty and a spirit brave enough to smile and keep on.

No one is really finally knocked out until he is willing to acknowledge it himself. That is why we see so many people against whom fate seems to have held a grudge keeping right on and smiling while they work and fight. It isn't, therefore, always the man who gets the hardest knocks who stays down longest. As rule it is the man who is tipped over by every little adverse puff of wind who stays down and makes the loudest noise about it.

Every time we do fall down there is a chance to get up. Every time things go against us there is a chance to try again to change them, and the man or woman who keeps plugging at the thing they have undertaken will eventually succeed unless they stop to commiserate with themselves.

Don't allow anyone with pessimistic views of life to destroy your faith in yourself or in the ultimate outcome of the thing you have undertaken. Don't allow anyone to interfere with your well laid plans if they are honest and clean ones. Don't allow yourself to complain or fret. That uses up the energy you need for other things. It destroys your faith in yourself and when you allow that you are inviting certain trouble.

Every man and woman trying to get on in the world has more than one

Daily Science Talk

By FREDERIC CAMPBELL,
President Department of Astronomy,
Brooklyn Institute of Arts and Sciences.

SCIENCE AT PANAMA.

President Taft's recent visit of inspection to the Panama canal and his return therewith with report of great satisfaction with the work direct attention to the scientific aspects of that marvelous undertaking.

In cutting through from the Atlantic to the Pacific it cut only fifty miles. In length has been found necessary, extending out into deep water at both ends, while from shore to shore its length is only forty and one-half miles, less than half the distance from New York to Philadelphia.

The minimum depth of the canal will be forty-one feet, and the summit level will be only eighty-five feet above the sea. This height will be reached by three locks at Gatun, on the Atlantic side; one lock at Pedro Miguel, and a flight of two locks at Miraflores, on the Pacific side. The summit level will be supplied by a large lake at Gatun and a small one at Pedro Miguel. The former will have an area of 161.23 square miles and a maximum depth of forty-five feet. There are many housekeepers who feel perfectly justified in throwing out to hens and pigs what would be good food for the family. Bread making is a process that costs time and money and every bit of it should be saved.

A few pieces of toasted bread cut in triangles and buttered, then placed on fruit of any kind in a baking dish previously buttered, baked with a meringue made with the white of an egg and two tablespoonsfuls of sugar, and you have a nice dessert which may be given to the children.

Another dessert using bread crumbs is Brown Betty. Use a cupful of crumbs, butter them by melting a tablespoonful of butter in a sauce pan and stirring in the crumbs so they may be evenly buttered. To two cups of chopped apple and a generous sprinkling of brown sugar and crumbs put in layers in a buttered baking dish with a little water and baked for an hour another very good and wholesome dessert is ready to serve.

Put slices of well buttered bread in a buttered baking dish and heap stewed plumpin over the slices. Bake until thoroughly hot and serve. For breeding chops, croquettes and scalloped dishes a large amount of bread is used.

For dry crumbs, be sure that none of the pieces have any butter on them. Dry out in the oven and put through the meat grinder, then place in glass cans and keep dry for all sorts of dishes.

Cubes of bread fried in a little butter are an addition to many salads, of course adding to the nutritive value of the same.

Serve toast made of bread cut in long narrow strips. Even the manner of serving and the form often appeals to a flagging appetite.

Soot Hint.

BED SOCKS FOR COLD FEET

Comfortable Footwear Easily Made by Following These Simple Instructions.

Many of us who really suffer from cold feet make a practice of sleeping in loose socks that reach to the calf or the leg. Here are the directions for crocheting a pair of these:

Get two ounces of single Berlin wool and a fine bone crochet hook.

Make 44 chain and work 44 double crochets into the other side of the chain stitches. Join neatly, then work double crochet around, taking up only the top portion of each stitch through. Work 17 rows in all.

In the eighteenth row turn back after the twenty-second double crochet, and with one chain at each turning work 12 rows to and fro on this. Turn wrong side out and, putting the two corners of this pleat together, connect the two sides with a row of double crochets.

Break off the thread and join to the center of the heel—that is, to the connecting stitches—and work a row of double crochet down the side of the heel into each double crochet across the front and up the other side; continue working round and decrease one in each second round at the corner between heel and front until the stitches are reduced to 38.

Work ten rows of 38 double crochet in each; then, making 18 for the back and 18 for the front, narrow stitch between by taking it up with the eighteenth and working the two loops as one.

Decrease in the same place in every second row for ten rows; then, joining the two edges together, compact with a row of double crochet on the wrong side, rounding off the corners.

Fasten the thread to the joining at the top of the sock, make one double crochet, miss one double crochet on the edge, and put six treble into the next, miss one, one double crochet into the next, miss one, and repeat from *.

These socks are not meant to fit exactly; the directions here given are for about a four or five foot. If yours is very small or very large, measure accordingly.

Catarrh is Surely a Dangerous Disease

Thousands of people allow catarrh to slowly undermine the whole system until a serious disease develops—sometimes consumption.

People who have catarrh should use every effort to get rid of it, but should above all adopt a sensible method.

Stomach dosing, sprays and douches won't cure catarrh because it is a germ disease, and the germs must be destroyed before the disease can be controlled.

HYOMEL is the one sensible cure for catarrh because it reaches every fold, crevice and nook in the mucous membrane and nose where the germs are.

You breathe HYOMEL and as it passes over the inflamed membrane its soothing influence heals the soreness and destroys the germs.

A complete HYOMEL outfit costs $1.00. This consists of a bottle of HYOMEL and a hard rubber inhaler.

Pour two drops of HYOMEL into the inhaler and breathe. It a few minutes each day, that's all you have to do. It is guaranteed by The People's Drug Co. and druggists everywhere to cure catarrh, coughs, colds and sore throat or money back. Extra bottle of HYOMEL costs 50 cents. "One Touch of Nature Makes the Whole World Kin."

When a rooster finds all the hen in the farm yard to come and share it. A similar trait of human nature is to be observed when a man discovers something exceptionally good—he wants all his friends and neighbors to share the benefits of his discovery. This is the touch of nature that makes the whole world kin. This explains why people who have been cured by Meritol Couf remedy write letters to the manufacturers for publication, that others similarly ailing may also try it and obtain relief. Behind every one of these letters is a warm hearted wish of the writer to his use to someone else. This remedy is for sale by the Irlabco Drug Co., druggists, members of American Drug & Press Association.

northern section; La Crosse and Mondovi of the western section; and Janesville and Madison for the southern section.

All of the elimination games were played on neutral floors in order to give neither side undue advantage. The local team secured easy victories from the two teams assigned to them, from Stoughton at Milton, and from Racine at Madison. However the up-state aggregations are reported to be exceptionally strong and it is the determination of Coach Knudson and his men to leave nothing undone which will aid in capturing the championship. The men will be kept in shape by light practice and passing and basket throwing will be given special attention.

Korst and Cunningham, the forwards for the locals, have been superior to any men that have been pitted against them this year and are expected to do much at the Appleton series. They are fast and sure shots playing with determination throughout the game. The guards have also done exceptional work this season, Brown and Edler in these positions having kept the scores of the opponents well below the Janesville figures by their consistent playing. The excellent team work which has been developed this year has been a feature which will undoubtedly do much toward winning the goal at Appleton, and under the leadership of Capt. Hemming success is confidently expected.

Coach Gillin of Lawrence, speaking of the teams that will contest, declared: "The culture of basketball being played by Wiscowau high school teams this season is much faster and better all around, than last year. I am firmly convinced that the eight strongest teams have been selected for state honors."

SPECIAL TO THE JOURNAL.

Monroe, March 21.—Oscar Hildebrand was committed to jail yesterday afternoon on default of payment of $500 bail, at his appearance before Justice W. T. Saucerman. Hildebrand was employed as a farm hand on the Schroeder farm near Juda last season, and when he came to this city was arrested by Marshal Blunt on an old warrant that had been awaiting service since December 3, 1910. Emil Combs swore out the complaint, charging he was defrauded by Hildebrand by the sale of a stolen horse for $165. Hildebrand's hearing was set for tomorrow.

Country

Farmers who want new locations where land is cheap, yet where the climate, the soil, the conveniences are good, will do well to investigate the new country—The STANLEY COUNTRY, in Northern Wisconsin.

I have listed with me for sale farms of all sizes at prices as low as $12.50 per acre and up to $20.00. The land is located on three railroads, is but 128 miles from St. Paul, Minn., 133 miles from Duluth, and only 245 miles from Milwaukee. It is bound to advance—to double and treble its value.

The land is cut over Hard Wood land with plenty of tame grasses planted by the owners wherever it has been cleared. Alyke and Timothy grow in abundance.

Investigate this proposition if you are in the market for good land at a low price. Write me for literature or call at my office.

"A bad plant," he observed thoughtfully. "The thing we call life. We meet and wail—sigh—moan innumerable. Tonight Destiny chose to throw us together for a little space; tomorrow we shall be irretrievably parted, for all time."

"Don't say that, Rutton."

"It is so written, David." The man's smile was strangely sweet. "After this night, we'll never meet. In the morning Doggett will carry you over—"

"Shan't we go together?"

"No," said Rutton seriously; "I must leave before you."

"Without Doggett?"

"Without Doggett; I wish him to go with you."

"Where?"

"On the errand I am going to ask you to do for me. You are free to leave this country for several months."

"Quite. I corrected the final galleyes of my 'Analysis of Sanskrit Literature' just before I came down. Now I've nothing on my mind—or hands, do you?"

"Wait." Rutton went a second time to the leather trunk, lifted the lid, and came back with two small parcels. The one, which appeared to contain documents of some sort, he cast negligently on the fire, with the air of one who destroys that which is no longer of value to him. It caught immediately and began to flame and smoke and smoulder. The other was several inches square and flat, wrapped in plain paper, without a superscription, and sealed with several heavy blobs of red wax.

Rutton drew a chair close to Amber and sat down, breaking the seal methodically.

"You shall go on a long journey, David," he said slowly—"a long journey, to a far land, where you shall brave perils that I may not warn you against. It will put your friendship to the test."

"I'm ready."

The older man ripped the cover from the packet, exposing the back of what seemed to be a photograph. Holding this to the light, its face invisible to Amber, he studied it for several minutes. In silence, a tender light kindling in his eyes to soften the almost ascetic austerity of his expression. "In the end, if you live, you shall win rich reward," he said at length. He placed the photograph face down upon the table.

"How—a reward?"

"The love of a woman worthy of you, David."

"But—?" In consternation Amber rose, almost knocking over his chair. "But—Great Scott, man!"

"Bear with me, David, for yet a little while," Rutton begged. "Sit down."

"All right, but—?" Amber resumed his seat, starting.

"You and Doggett are to seek her out, wherever she may be, and rescue her from what may be worse than death. And it shall come to pass that you shall love one another and marry and live happily ever after—just as though you were a prince and she an enchanted princess in a fairy tale, David."

"I must say you seem pretty damn sure about it!"

"It must be so, David; it shall be so! I am an old man—older than you think, perhaps—and with age there sometimes comes something strangely akin to the gift of second-sight. So I know it will be so, though you think me a madman."

"I don't, indeed, but you . . . Well! I give it up," Amber laughed merrily. "Gosh, Where's this maid-in-distress?"

"In India—I'm not sure just where. You'll find her, however."

"And then—?"

"Then you are to bring her home with you, without delay."

"But suppose—?"

"You must win her first; then she will come gladly."

"But I've just told you I loved another woman, Rutton, and besides—"

"You mean the Miss Farrell, you mentioned?"

"Yes, I—"

"That will be no obstacle."

"What? How in thunder d'you know it won't?" Amber expostulated. A faint suspicion of the truth quickened his wit. "Who is this woman you want me to marry?"

"My daughter!"

"My only child, David."

"Then why won't my love for Sophia Farrell interfere?"

"Because," said Rutton slowly, "my daughter and Sophia Farrell are on the other hand, to be seen with them, to have it known that you communicate with them, would be the equivalent of a seal upon your death warrant. You remember the money lender's name?"

"Dhola Bakash of the Machu bazar."

"Trust him—and trust Doggett."

"Four minutes more!"

"Rutton!" cried Amber in a broken voice. Cold sweat broke out upon his forehead.

The man smiled fearlessly. "Believe me, this is the better way—the only way . . . Some day you may meet a little chap named Laertouchou—a queer fish I once knew in Calcutta. But I daresay he's dead by now. But if you should meet him, tell him that you've seen his B-formula work flawlessly in one instance at least. You see, he dabbled in chemistry and entomology and a lot of uncommon pursuits—a collector by profession, he never seemed to have any practice to speak of—and he invented this stuff and named it the B-formula."

Rutton tapped the silver phial in his waistcoat pocket, smiling faintly.

"He was a good little man . . . Two minutes. Strange how little one cares, when it's inevitable . . ."

He ceased to speak and closed his eyes. A great stillness made itself felt within the room. In the other, Doggett was silent—probably asleep.

It was close upon two in the morning.

"Amber," said Rutton suddenly and very clearly, "you'll find a will in my dispatch box. Doggett is to have all I possess. The emerald ring—the Token—I give to you."

"Yes, I—"

"Your hand . . . Mine is cold?"

No; I fancied it was," said the man drawishly. And later: "Sophia. You will be kind to her, David?"

"On my faith!"

Rutton's fingers tightened cruelly upon his, then relaxed suddenly. He began to nod, his chin drooping toward his breast.

"The Gateway . . . the Bell . . ."

The words were no more than white pores dying on lips that stilled as they spoke.

For a long time Amber sat immovable, his fingers imprisoned in that quiet, cooling grasp, his thoughts astray in a black mist of mourning and bewilderment.

Out of doors something made a clink of the rubin, like a burst of the night, stealthy footsteps muffled by the snow: pad—pad—pad . . .

In the emerald ring on Amber's finger the deathless fire leaped and pulsed.

How to Tell If Your Hair Is Diseased.

Even if you have a luxuriant head of hair you may want to know whether it is in a healthy condition or not. 99 per cent of the people need a hair tonic.

Pull a hair out of your head; if the bulb at the end of the root is white and shrunken, it proves that the hair is diseased, and requires prompt treatment. If its loss would be avoided, if the bulb is pink and full, the hair is healthy.

We want every one whose hair requires treatment to try Rexall "Gold Dust" Hair Tonic. We promise that it shall not cost anything if it does not give satisfactory results. It is designed to overcome dandruff, relieve scalp irritation, to stimulate the hair roots, fight on the hair already in the head, grow hair and cure baldness.

It is because of what Rexall "Gold Dust" Hair Tonic has done and our sincere faith in its goodness that we want you to try it at our risk. Two sizes, 30c and $1.00. Sold only at our store, The Rexall Store—The Smith Drug Co.

"Ah-h!" sighed Rutton. Relieved, the tension relaxed; he released Amber's hand; his body sank a little in the chair. Recalling conscious of this, he pulled himself together . . .

"Enter India by way of Calcutta," he said in a dull and heavy voice.

"There, in the Machu bazar, you will find a goldsmith and money lender called Dhola Bakash. Go to him secretly, show him the ring—the Token. He will understand and do all in his power to aid you, should there be any trouble about your leaving with Sophia. To no one else in India are you to mention my name. Deny me, if you tax me with knowing me. Do you understand?"

"No. Why?"

"Never mind—but remember these two things: you do not know me and you must under no circumstances have anything to do with the police. They could do nothing to hold you on the other hand, to be seen with them, to have it known that you communicate with them, would be the equivalent of a seal upon your death warrant. You remember the money lender's name?"

"Dhola Bakash of the Machu bazar."

"Trust him—and trust Doggett."
